

How The Princess Bride uses the fantasy genre to tell a tantalizing tale

FANTASTIC FANTASY
AWESOME AMAZING FUN

!FANTASTIC FILM EVENTS!

- ✘ Fezzik and Westley are amazing rope climbers
- ✘ A deadly poison would make you severely ill if you really tried to build an immunity to it like the Iocane powder
- ✘ The castle guards run in fear of a burning Fezzik on a wheelbarrow
- ✘ Westley comes back from being “mostly dead” with the help of a chocolate covered pill
- ✘ A machine sucks the life force out of its victims
- ✘ Westley saves Buttercup just in time before she kills herself

- Overall, I realize the absolute coincidences and unlikely or impossible actions in this movies are quite silly.
- Regardless, I am excited when Westley finds the strength to stand at the end of the movie, I am relieved when Fezzik grabs Buttercup right before a Shrieking Eel eats her, and feel happy as the credits roll
